A photograph of a modern outdoor living space. In the foreground, there are light-colored wooden steps leading up to a deck. The deck is covered by a pergola with a dark metal frame and a decorative metal railing featuring a leaf pattern. The pergola has a louvered roof. In the background, there is a house with light-colored siding and a large window. The sky is clear and blue.

Our Vision

At ETP, we believe that outdoor living should be an extension of your home—a seamless blend of comfort, function, and timeless design. With over 50 years of experience in metal fabrication, our family-run business has perfected the art of creating premium aluminum louvered pergolas that redefine outdoor spaces.

What sets ETP apart is not just our high-quality low maintenance materials and precision engineering, but the passion we bring to every project. Our pergolas are designed to enhance your outdoor experience, providing shelter and ambiance while complementing any landscape. Whether you're entertaining guests or seeking a personal retreat, our louvered pergolas offer the perfect balance of shade, ventilation, and open-air luxury. Built on decades of craftsmanship, ETP is more than a brand—it's a legacy of excellence in outdoor living solutions.

Imagine stepping into your backyard and being greeted by the serenity of a sleek, all-white louvered pergola. Enhanced with modern horizontal privacy slats, this structure not only amplifies its architectural appeal but also offers an inviting retreat from the sun's glare. ETP louvered pergolas seamlessly integrates into any outdoor setting, elevating the ambiance with effortless elegance.

This ultra-modern motorized louvered pergola is designed with the perfect blend of form and function. In the late afternoon, as the sun begins its descent, this pergola becomes an oasis of tranquility and relaxation. Sink into your outdoor lounge chair, and let the adjustable louvers provide just the right amount of shade and openness. This is a space designed for serenity, a seamless extension of your home where comfort meets luxury.

As night falls, the ambiance shifts effortlessly. The soft glow of the integrated lighting sets the perfect tone. The bold contemporary design—featuring a mix of wide and narrow column configurations—commands attention, making this pergola the epitome of modern outdoor architecture. It's more than a shade structure—it's a statement piece that enhances the experience of outdoor living in every way.

With its striking two-tone black and white finish, this pergola is the pinnacle of architectural creativity. Designed with unique inline column strips, it redefines contemporary outdoor elegance, bringing a sophisticated edge to any backyard space. The contrast between deep black structural elements and bright white louvers enhances the sense of balance and stands out without overpowering its surroundings.

Dare to stand out—embrace bold, architecturally modern variations of traditional louvered pergolas and redefine your outdoor space with striking design and innovation.

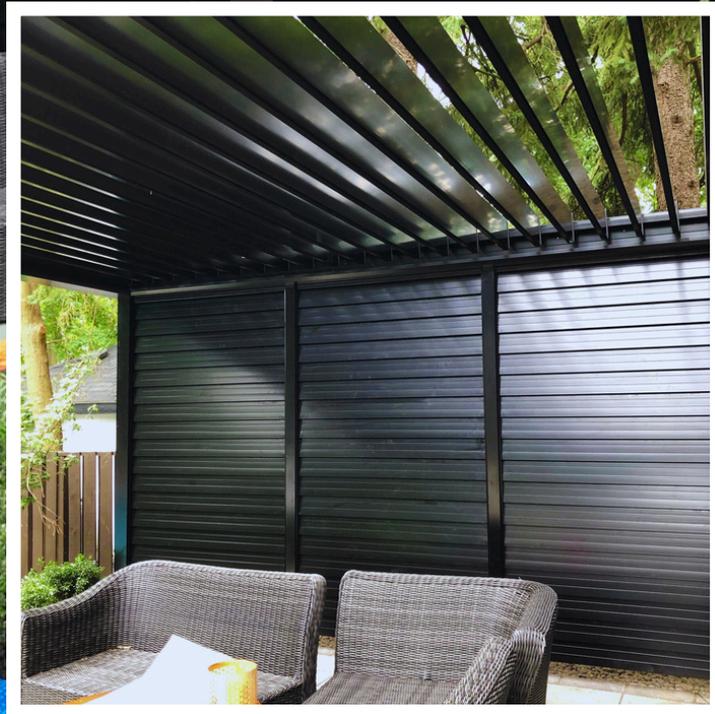

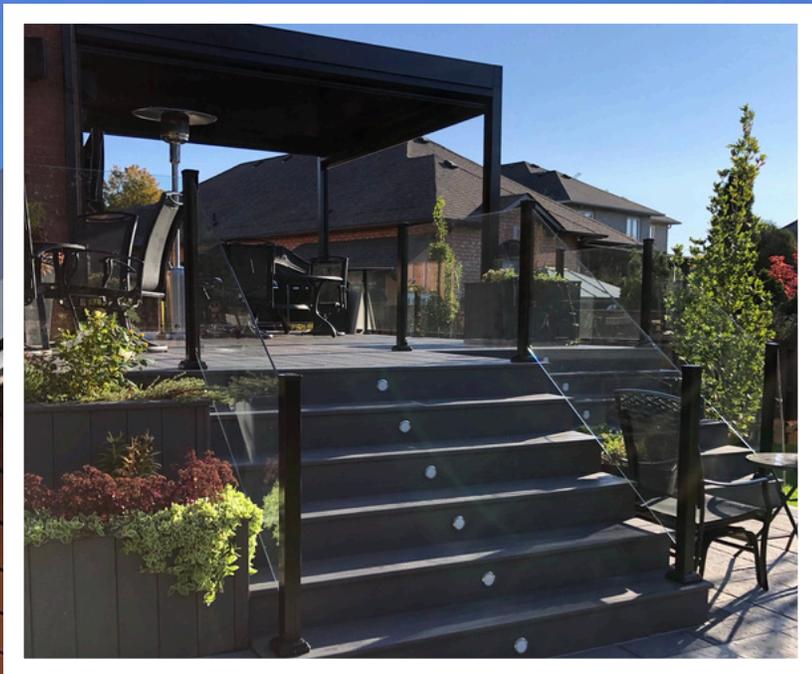

The versatility of ETP aluminum pergolas ensures that every space, no matter the size or layout, receives the perfect coverage. With no configuration off limits, we tailor each structure to meet unique design needs, providing seamless integration into any residential or commercial setting. Manufactured right here in Canada, we maintain full control over the production process, allowing us to adapt and modify designs based on customers needs.

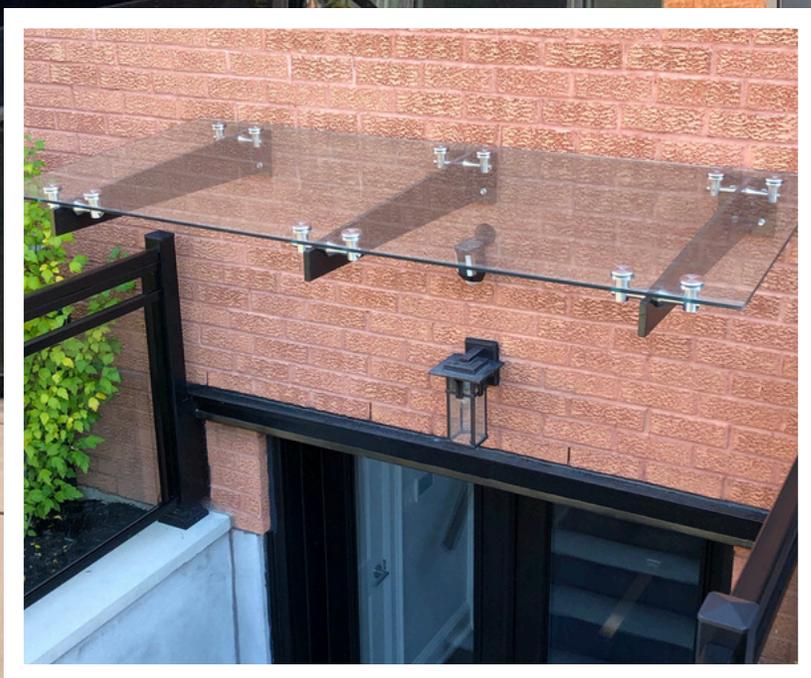

ETP pergolas can be customized with a variety of wall and privacy slat treatments, offering both seclusion and openness for the perfect outdoor retreat. This bold black-on-black pergola, featuring a fixed louvered privacy wall, creates a striking statement while offering airflow around the perimeter. ETP's tailored solutions enhance both functionality and style.

ETP has been a leader in outdoor living innovation, crafting not only premium pergolas but also canopies, railings, and more. As a one-stop destination for low-maintenance outdoor solutions, we continue to expand our product line with modern, durable, and stylish enhancements. The sleek infill glass railing offers safety without compromising the view, blending seamlessly with contemporary outdoor designs. The modern glass canopy provides protection from the elements while allowing natural light to pass through. Built custom for every application.

Transform your outdoor space into a serene retreat with ETP. Sit back and relax.

ETP louvered pergolas can be installed virtually anywhere, from residential porches and backyard decks to café patios, rooftop retreats, and expansive restaurant dining areas. No matter the setting, these structures provide enhanced comfort, shade, and weather protection, creating inviting outdoor spaces that can be enjoyed year-round.

More than just a louvered roof system, our expertise as a manufacturer allows us to diversify your outdoor environment, complete with custom glass partitions, privacy panels, and elegantly designed planter boxes. These elements work together to create inviting, well-defined spaces that offer shade, weather protection, and a curated ambiance tailored to the unique vision of each establishment.

With a commitment to precision craftsmanship and design flexibility, ETP provides solutions that satisfy even the most discerning architects and designers, ensuring that every detail reflects a balance of sophistication, comfort, and practicality.

PROTECT

Designed to provide complete shade and protection, the fully closed position blocks direct sunlight and creates a waterproof barrier against rain, ensuring a comfortable and dry outdoor space.

FULL CONTROL

With up to 130-degree range of motion, the motorized louvers allow you to effortlessly track the sun's movement, adjusting for optimal sunlight penetration throughout the day. This precise control helps regulate heat, ensuring just the right balance of light and shade for a comfortable outdoor experience.

FEEL THE BREEZE

With the ability to adjust the 130-degree louver range, you can not only control sunlight but also optimize airflow, drawing cool air down into your space while efficiently venting out heat.

Further enhance your ETP pergola by incorporating our architectural laser-cut privacy screens and planters, adding both style and functionality. This makes them an ideal, fully customizable solution for residential and commercial spaces, tailored to suit any design vision.

ETP Metals is built on a legacy of craftsmanship, innovation, and dedication.
